SPENCER AND DIETZ INJURED WHEN "WILDCAT" GOES OVER BANK

Local Racing Car Plunges Through Fence at the Belle Vernon Track

BOTH MEN SERIOUSLY HURT

Spencer Suffering From Bad Body Bruises and Cuts, Dietz From Broke, Limb and Lacerations—One Is Taken to Hospital, One to His Home.

When A. D. Spencer's Buick Wildcat tore through the fence at the Belle Vernon track during the five mile free-for-all race in the automobile races Monday afternoon, Spencer and his mechanician, Martin Dietz were badly injured. Spencer was pinned beneath the car and is suffering from cuts and bruises all over the body. Several gashes about the face required a number of stitches. Dietz was thrown out of the car just as the car took its plunge. He is now in the Charleroi-Monessen hispital suffering from a broken left leg, and from bruises and laceations. His cuts were mostly about the face, and 12 stitches had to be taken to close the wounds.

Spencer was pulling up behind Hughdoc, in the Yellow Kid Buick, trying to pass him at the south end of the track. He was on the outside of the track. The rear wheels of the Wildcat skidded and banged into the fence. The jolt threw Dietz from the machine to the track. The rear of the machine turned fiercely through the fence and the Wildcat overturned over the embankment, Spencer in it. The car was reduced to junk.

Dietz was picked up and hurried to an automobile. The wreckage of the famous Wildcat was pulled from Spencer and he carried to an auto. Dietz was driven to the Charleroi-Monessen hospital and Spencer taken home. Prompt medical attention was given both.

Dietz seemed the worst injured at first. Spencer, however had a bad night, his injuries being severe. He is bruised over his entire body, a foot is badly scalded and there are cuts about his chin and an eye. In one leg a hole was dug by a piece of the machinery and this wound is proving extremely painful. It is difficult now to say when he will be able to get out.

The race in which the accident occurred was started again after the accident and won by Fetterman a Pittsburger in his Simplex. However much of the interest was taken out of the events by the injury to Spencer and Dietz.

REMARKABLE DRIVING FEATURES AUTO RACES

Belle Vernon Track is Scene of Fast Going Monday ---Accident Comes at Bad Time---Woodward Wins Hot Race in Junebug

Remarkable driving featured the automobile races at the Belle Vernon track Monday afternoon. One accident in which Martin Dietz and A. D. Spencer were injured as related in another column sensationalized the race meet.

Some of the most remarkable driving of the day was done by Guy Woodward of the Elite Garage in his Ford Junebug. In the three-mile ract for cars of 450 piston displacement and under, which included large cars Woodward crossed the mark two seconds ahead of Hughroc, driving a Yellow Kid Buick. A. D. Spencer came in third in his Buick Wildcat.

Woodward won through getting a lead at the start. His quick getaway at the sound of the starter's pistol put him well in front of the larger cars. By diving to the inside of the track and hanging there despite all efforts to displace him, he got away with the prize money with considerable ease.

All drivers did well. All races had their sensations. Fast time was made. A crowd estimated at 5,000 was present.

The accident resulting in the injury to Spencer and his mechanican, Dietz took place while the sixth event was being contested. Fetterman a Pittsburger won this race in his Simplex.

DONORA LAD SEES RACES; IS HURT

Starts Home on Back of Car and Falls Off in Path Of Another One

IS NOT SERIOUSLY INJURED

Steve Gumbish, a Donora lad of 13 years managed to see the automobile races at Belle Vernon Monday afternoon, but he had to pay rather dearly for it. Gumbish got the idea that he would go part way home by automobile and that is what caused his trouble. He climbed on the back of a car of F. F. Gregg of Monessen. All was serene until his fingers began to get tired and numb. Then he wanted to let go and didn't quite know how. Finally he dropped from the Gregg car. This machine was traveling at about the rate of 20 miles an hour. Behind that Albert Stech of Charleroi was driving a car. The boy rolled in front before Stech could stop the car. He was hit a glancing blow by the wheel and somewhat bruised. Three physicians attended him, but his injuries were found not to be of a very serious nature. He was taken to his home in Donora.

THE ALIEN DOG LAW

Considerable criticism has been directed from certain quarters against the alien dog law, on the ground that it unjustly discriminates against the foreigner. That such is not the purpose of the law is clearly explained in a set of instructions now being mailed out to game protectors by Secretary Kalbfus of the State Game Commission.

"This act was not passed for the purpose of imposing hardships upon aliens," the instructions read. "either through the killing of their dogs or by taking their hard earned dollars through penalties, and you are to use good judgment in its enforcement insofar as you, as an officer of the game commission, are concerned.

"You are to consider the place where the dog may be found, as well as the likelihood of the dog to injure or destroy game or wild birds. A poodle dog, for instance, even in the woods, is not apt to injure game to any great extent; neither is a bulldog, or any other dog kept confined by its master in a city, likely to do much harm to birds or game. We direct that you, as a game protector, refrain from taking any action whatever in cases where the dog, no difference what its character may be, is not in position to injure game or wild birds. If the dog spared for this reason is afterwards found in position where game or wild birds may be destroyed, that is another proposition. The dog of the small town or the country that is permitted to run at will, in many instances half starved, is the dog you must look after, and you are to do this in a reasonable way, using good judgment in every instance.

"You are to destroy dogs only after the expiration of three weeks after the time your notice to aliens, printed in English, Slavonic and Italian, regarding their keeping dogs were posted.

"If you land aliens, even after the expiration of this time, who, for any reasons, may have retained their dogs but who are willing, without trouble to obey the mandates of the act, either disposing of the dogs themselves or permitting you to destroy them, you are to do this without the imposition of a penalty or of costs. Where the alien refuses to either dispose of the dog himself or to permit you to destroy such dog without trouble, you are to push the matter to the limit, taking such seps as may be necessary to secure the desired end.

"You are to remember that this law prevails in Pennsylvania until it has been for some reason, declared a nullity by action of the supreme court.

"You are not expected to destroy dogs belonging to either aliens or others simply because they may be killing sheep or poultry, or running through the farmers' grain. The destruction of such dags is a matter entirely for the farmers upon whose lands the dogs may be found. You will no doubt receive numerous calls to destroy dogs and for various reasons, but you are to remember that you are paid from a fund raised by sportsmen. You are employed to protect game and wild birds; you represent no other interests in this commonwealth and are expected to kill dogs only as a protection to game and wild birds."

While the people of this country want a tariff commission, they also want the law for its establishment very carefully drawn. They recognize that at present practically all of the inter-state business of the country is under the espionage of 21 men, the aggregate number of the Interstate and Trade Commissioners and the Federal Reserve Board, thus placing in the hands of 11 men a majority, the power to determine questions of vital importance to the welfare of the whole nation. This is too centralized government and must ultimately result in destruction of popular and representative government.

The most ennobling of companions are the great men and women of all the ages who have transmitted themselves through their books to succeeding generations, says the Altoona Tribune. It is possible to spend a little part of each day with such companions and teachers and those who avail themselves of the opportunity are the true children of wisdom and are filling their minds with thoughts that will enhance the value of daily living.

A person doesn't need to be told to know when a Saturday has been a payday in this region. He can tell it from the crowds on the streets of Charleroi.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Mrs. Sam Tyle met her dearest friend, Mrs. George Reen in the street.

"How lucky to meet you," gushed Mrs. S. Tyle. "I'm—er—we want another maid; there is too much work for two. So I'm looking for a parlor maid."

Mrs. G. Reen hid her envy under a smiling face.

"How strange," she gushed back. "I think I know the very girl for you. And I can recommend her personally, because she's leaving us next week."

Mrs. Tyle darted a suspicious look at her friend.

"But—er—why are you—er—getting rid of her?" she demanded.

Mrs. G. Reen smiled coolly.

"Oh, she's given me notice, dear," she said, with well assured frankness. "You see, she complains that there is too much silver to clean at our house. So I know she'll just suit you!"—

"Huerta is quoting Napoleon to the effect that he who saves the country breaks no law—breaks no law, that is, no matter how many laws he actually breaks. That is very irritating. It reminds me—"

Hamilton Fyfe, London correspondent, was taking his after-luncheon coffee out of doors on a rose-hung terrace in Monterey.

"It reminds me of a Texan," Fyfe resumed. "This Texan said to me on a channel boat:

"Yep, by heck, I was on a Calforny, jury oncet. Murder trial it wuz—hoss stealin,' ye know. I didn't want the fellow hung and stuck out again the other 11 jurymen for nine days. Nine days, by heck! But I won. At 3 a. m. on the mornin' the the tenth day we fetched in a verdict of not guilty. And then—gee I wuz mad!'

"'What were you mad about?' I inquired.

"'What wuz I mad about?' the Texan said. 'Why, gosh durn it the boys had hung the prisoner the fast day the jury locked itself up.'"

PENNSYLVANIA PETE

By LEIGH CURTIS.

Sheriff Hecker's daughter peered into his office and, finding him deep in discussion with a dozen keen-faced men, went on her way without interrupting him.

Anne paused and read the notice recently nailed to the door of the sheriff's office:

$00 REWARD

For the capture of Peter Emmons, alias "Pennsylvania Pete," escaped from Draynor state prison Friday night, June 4. Height 5 feet 10 inches; fair complexion, blue eyes.

Anne read no further; there was a scraping of chairs on the boards within and she flew around to the tree where her horse was tied. In a moment she was galloping down the trail toward Lost river.

Lost river was a busy, rushing little stream. Anne took her sketching block from the saddle bags and sat down against a huge bowlder. There were several of these bowlders heaped roughly together and half concealed by ragged mesquite.

"Don't be frightened," said a man's voice at her ear. "I wonder if you happen to have any whisky or anything—"

Pale faced, her heart beating like a triphammer, Anne stared down into the mesquite beside her.

All she could see was a man's white face His eyes were closed—he had fainted while speaking to her.

With a hand on her heart she parted the bushes and saw that he was fair-haired and sunburned, and—yes—quite desperate looking.

And in that moment came the clatter of hoofs as the posse reached Lost river in search of Pennsylvania Pete.

Her father's angry voice hailed her.

"What in blazes are you doing down here, Anne?" he called. "Get back home at once. This is no place for you."

"Very well, dad," said Anne calmly.

"Have you got your gun?" demanded the sheriff, anxiously.

Anne produced the efficient little automatic weapon.

But she did not rise until the sheriff and his posse had disappeared in Lost River canyon and all sounds had stilled. Then she looked down at the face and saw that it was turned toward her. The man had regained consciousness.

"I will give you some whisky," said Anne, in a low tone, and she brought a small flask from her saddle bags.

"I am Anne Hecker, the sheriff's daughter."

"The sheriff's daughter! Thank you, Miss Hecker. And who am I, please?"

"Your description is posted all over the county," said Anne, "and I am a criminal because I am helping you to escape."

"Who am I?" he insisted.

"Pennsylvania Pete," she replied impatiently.

"Am I?" he asked curiously. "Do you remember the description?"

"Some of it—five feet ten inches, blue eyes. Why, your eyes are brown!" she exclaimed, excitedly.

"Exactly."

"Then you can't be Pennsylvania Pete!"

"Hardly—but I wish I were!"

"Why?"

"I wouldn't be lying helpless here with this ankle."

"Oh, I forgot! You must think me cruel to neglect you I will rub some of this whisky on it—so—and, have you a handkerchief?—thanks. There, that is an improvised bandage. Now will you try to get on my horse? I will lead you to my father's house."

This was a test of his sincerity.

No outlaw would willingly visit Sheriff Hecker.

There was much excitement when Anne came toiling up the trail leading her horse, on which sat the drooping stranger.

The sheriff and his posse had returned after a futile chase and their first glimpse of Anne and her companion sent them whooping to meet her.

"I declare if she hasn't caught him!" yelled Hen Loper.

"Don't be silly," said Anne coolly. "I found this gentlman suffering from a sprained ankle. Father, will you help him into the house? Hen, please telephone for the doctor."

Open mouthed they obeyed her commands.

Sheriff Hecker had a brief conversation with the stranger and came grinning into the next room, where Nan was heating a can of broth for the newcomer.

"Who do you suppose that is?" He nodded over his shoulder.

"Pensylvania Pete after all?" she gasped.

"Not on your life. It's the governor."

"Governor?"

"Governor of the state—been staying at Frobar's ranch; got lost on the range; had an accident. He's got papers to prove his identity, and I remember his face now. I voted for him last fall. Hustle along the beef tea, honey."

The young governor has a favorite story which he often tells.

Sometimes he begins, "Once, when I was a desperate outlaw," but more often he says, "Once upon a time when I was Pennsylvania Pete I met my wife and fell in love with her at first sight."

And the real Pennsylvania Pete? He never came back.

CAN'T LOSE HAIR

Twenty Years from Today a Baldheaded Man will be an Unusual Sight

One of the most prominent druggists of America made a statement a few weeks ago which has caused a great deal of discussion among scientists in the medical press.

He said: "If the new hair grower, Mildredina Hair Remedy, increases its sales as it has during the past year, it will be used by nearly every man, woman and child in America within eight years.

"When Mildredina Hair Remedy is used almost universally, dandruff will disappear and with its departure baldness, itching scalp, splitting hair and all scalp diseases will follow and wenty years from now o bald head will be a rarity." When You Can't Smoke that's the time to chew FIVE BROTHERS. When you can smoke—that's the time to choose FIVE BROTHERS.

This pure Southern Kentucky tobacco is the great favorite with men of vigor. It is full-bodied and satisfying. It gets its pleasant richness from the natural aging we give it for three to five years. And that is what keeps its quality up, always the same, no matter what the year's crop may be.

FIVE BROTHERS
Pipe Smoking Tobacco

has always given prime pleasure to manly men. A FIVE BROTHERS man never switches to another brand; he knows he's losing time and pleasure on a needless experiment. Many brands come and go into the discard—while FIVE BROTHERS holds old friends and makes new ones every day.

There's a snappy taste to FIVE BROTHERS that policemen and other big fellows like. It's got that man-size quality about it; not one of those insipid, next-to-nothing tobaccos—but the big king-brand for the he-men on the force.

A week's trial will make you a permanent user of FIVE BROTHERS—go to it today.

FIVE BROTHERS is sold everywhere.

TALE AMUSED SENATOR HOAR

Noted Statesman Told With Glee of Southerner's Visit to Boston, Where People Ate Beans.

Senator Hoar used to tell with glee of a Southerner just home from New England who said to his friend, "You know those little white, round beans?"

"Yes," replied the friend, "the kind we feed to our horses?"

"The very same. Well, do you know, sir, that in Boston the enlightened citizens take those little white, round beans, boil them for three or four hours, mix them with molasses and I know not what other ingredients, bake them, and then—what do you suppose they do with the beans?"

"They—"

"They eat 'em, sir," interrupted the first Southerner impressively; "bless me, sir, they eat 'em!"—Christian Register.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to section eight of article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Section. 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:—

Amend section eight, article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows:

"Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the assent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law; but any city, the debt of which now exceeds seven per centum of such assessed valuation, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum, in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation, except that any debt or debts hereinafter incurred by the city and county of Philadelphia for the construction and development of subways for transit purposes, or for the construction of wharves and docks, or the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of a system of wharves and docks, as public improvements, owned or to be owned by said city and county of Philadelphia, and which shall yield to the city and county of Philadelphia current net revenues in excess of the interest on said debt or debts, and the annual installments necessary for the cancellation of said debt or debts, may be excluded in ascertaining the power of the city and county of Philadelphia to become otherwise indebted: Provided, That a sinking fund of their cancellation shall be established and maintained," so that it shall read as follows:—

Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the consent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law; but any city, the debt of which on the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, exceeded seven per centum of such assessed valuation, and has not since been reduced to less than such per centum, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation. The city of Philadelphia, upon the conditions hereinafter set forth, may increase its indebtedness to the extent of three per centum in excess of seven per centum upon such assessed valuation for the specific purpose of providing for all or any of the following purposes,—to wit: For the construction and improvement of subways, tunnels, railways, elevated railways, and other transit facilities; for the construction and improvement of wharves and docks and for the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of wharves and docks, owned or to be owned by said city. Such increase, however, shall only be made with the assent of the electors thereof at a public election, to be held in such manner as shall be provided by law. In ascertaining the borrowing capacity of said city of Philadelphia, at any time, there shall be excluded from the calculation a credit, where the work resulting from any previous expenditure, for any one or more of the specific purposes hereinabove enumerated shall be yielding to said city an annual current net revenue; the amount of which credit shall be ascertained by capitalizing the annual net revenue during the year immediately preceding the time of such ascertainment. Such capitalization shall be accomplished by ascertaining the principal amount which would yield such annual, current net revenue, at the average rate of interest, and sinking-fund charges payable upon the indebtedness incurred by said city for such purposes, up to the time of such ascertainment. The method of determining such amount, so to be excluded or allowed as a credit, may be prescribed by the General Assembly.

In incurring indebtedness, for any one, or more of said purposes of construction, improvement, or reclamation, the city of Philadelphia may issue its obligations maturing not later than fifty years from the date thereof, with provision for a sinking-fund sufficient to retire said obligation at maturity, the payments to such sinking-fund to be in equal or graded annual instalment. Such obligations may be in an amount sufficient to provide for and may include the amount of the interest and sinking-fund charges accruing and which may accrue thereon throughout the period of construction and until the expiration of one year after the completion of the work for which said indebtedness shall have been incurred; and said city shall not be required to levy a tax to pay said interest and sinking-fund charges, as required by section ten of article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, until the expiration of said period of one year after the completion of such work.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to section twenty-one of article three of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be, and the same is hereby, proposed, in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof:—

Amend section twenty-one, article three of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows:

"No act of the General Assembly shall limit the amount to be recovered for injuries resulting in death, or for injuries to persons or property, and in case of death from such injuries the right of action shall survive, and the General Assembly shall prescribe for whose benefit such action shall be prosecuted. No act shall prescribe any limitations of time within which suits may be brought against corporations for injuries to persons or property, or for other causes different from those fixed by general laws regulating actions against natural persons, and such acts now existing are avoided," so that it shall read as follows:

The General Assembly may enact laws requiring the payment by employers, or employers and employes jointly, or reasonable compensation for injuries to employes arising in the course of their employment, and for occupational diseases of employes, whether or not such injuries or diseases result in death, and regardless of fault of employer or employe, and fixing the basis of ascertainment of such compensation and the maximum and minimum limits thereof, and providing special or general remedies for the collection thereof; but in no other cases shall the General Assembly limit the amount to be recovered for injuries resulting in death, or for injuries to persons or property, and in case of death from such injuries, the right of action shall survive, and the General Assembly shall prescribe for whose benefit such actions shall be prosecuted. No act shall prescribe any limitations of time within which suits may be brought against corporations for injuries to persons or property, or for other causes different from those fixed by general laws regulating actions against natural persons; and such acts now existing are avoided.

Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of this Commonwealth in accordance with provisions of the eighteenth (XVIII) article thereof.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth (XVIII) article thereof:—

AMENDMENT.

Laws may be passed providing for a system of registering, transferring, insuring of and guaranteeing land titles by the State, or by the counties thereof, and for settling and determining adverse or other claims to and interest in lands the titles to which are so registered, transferred, insured, and guaranteed; and for the creation and collection of indemnity funds; and for carrying the system and powers hereby provided for into effect by such existing courts as may be designated by the Legislature, and by the establishment of such new courts as may be deemed necessary. In matters arising in and under the operation of such system, judicial powers, with right of appeal, may be conferred by the Legislature upon county recorders and upon other officers by it designated. Dr. Osler on Tuberculosis

Sir William Osler, one of the foremost of living medical men, formerly of Johns Hopkins, Baltimore, and now Regius Professor of Medicine at Oxford, says in his "Practice of Medicine" (1892), on page 249:

"The healing of pulmonary tuberculosis is shown clinically by the recovery of patients in whose sputa elastic tissue and bacilli have been found. * * * In the granulations products and associated pneumonia a scar tissue is formed, while the smaller caseous areas become impregnated with lime salts. To such conditions alone should the term healing be applied."

Many eminent medical authorities have testified to the efficacy of lime salts in the treatment of tuberculosis, and the success of Eckman's Alterative in this and allied throat and bronchial affections may be due partly to the fact that it contains a lime salt so combined with other valuable ingredients as to be easily assimilated.

Widespread use of this remedy in numerous cases of tuberculosis—many of which appear to have yielded completely to it—justifies our belief that it is worth a trial, unless some other treatment already is succeeding. It contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs. We make no promises concerning it any more that reputable physicians give promises with their prescriptions, but we know of many cases in which IT HAS HELPED.

Your druggist has it or can get it, or you can send direct.

NASSAU TIRES ON SIX OF NINE CARS IN RACES

It was most noticeable that 6 out of 9 cars entered in the auto races at Belle Vernon Monday were equipped with Nassau Tires, manufactured by the Thermoid Rubber Co., of Trenton, N. J. The drivers of these cacrs stated that they feel much safer on Nassau than on any other make. The racing game is harder on tires than on any other usage to which they may be put. The heat caused by friction together with the side strains due to skidding will cause blowouts unless the tires represent the greatest efficiency in workmanship and material.

Woman's Beauty No Secret

It all lies in the care she bestows upon herself and in keeping at bay those dread ills peculiar to her sex. The flashing eye, the elastic step and the clear complexion never accompany organic troubles. The distressed expression, lassitude, headaches and mental depression are only the tell-tale symptoms. Women so troubled should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that simple remedy made from roots and herbs and restore their health to a normal condition. Adv

AS TO FALLING IN LOVE

THERE ARE SO MANY, MANY WAYS OF DOING IT.

And So Great a Number Find When Too Late They Have Never Had the True Experience, Having Mistaken Symptoms.

Now of course there is no difficulty about falling in love. Anyone can do that. The difficulty is to know when the symptoms are true or false, says a Pittsburgh Post writer. So many people mistake the symptoms, and only discover when it is too late that they have never really had the true experience. Hence the importance of "calf love," which serves as a sort of apprenticeship to the mystery and enables you to discriminate between the substance and the shadows.

People laugh at "calf love," but one might as well laugh at the wonder of dawn or the coming of spring. When David Copperfield fell in love with the eldest Miss Larkins he was really in love with the opening universe, and the eldest Miss Larkins happened to be the only available lightning conductor for his emotion.

The important thing is that you should contract "calf love" while you are young. It is like the measles, which is harmless enough in childhood but apt to be dangerous when you are grown up. The "calf love" of an elderly man is always a disaster. Hence the saying, "There is no fool like an old fool." An elderly man should not fall in love. He should walk right into it. He should survey the ground carefully, as Mr. Marks did.

The mistake of "the northern farmer" was that he applied the same middle aged caution to youth. "Doan't you marry for munny, but goa wheer munny is," he said to his son Sammy who wanted to marry the poor parson's daughter.

There is no harm, of course, in marrying money. George Borrow said that there were worse ways of making a fortune than marrying one. And perhaps it is true, though I don't think Borrow's experience was very convincing. I have known people who "have gone where money was" and have fallen honestly and rapturously in love, but you have to be very sure that money in such a case is not the motive. If it is, the penalty never fails to follow.

Those who believe in "love at first sight" take the view that marriages are made in Heaven and that we only come to earth to fulfill our destiny. Johnson, who was an excellent husband to the elderly Mrs. Porter, spoke with that view and held that love was only the accidence of circumstance, but though that is a sensible view, there are cases like those of Dante and Beatrice and Abelard and Heloise, in which the passion doesn't seem to touch the skies. In those cases, however, it rarely ends happily.

A more humdrum way of falling in love seems better fitted for earthly conditions. The method of Sir Thomas More was perhaps the most unromantic on record. He preferred the younger of two sisters and was about to marry her when it occurred to him that it would be very unpleasant for the elder sister to see her junior married before herself. Thereupon he proposed to the elder and married her, and as far as I can remember the experiment was thoroughly satisfactory.
